

Knote Sings His Farewell in "Tristan und Isolde"

Takes Burgstaller's Place in Performance at Metropolitan,
Though Sailing Away
This Morning.

By Sylvester Rawling.

KNOTE did not, after all, make his farewell appearance at the Metropolitan Opera-House as Tamara last week. Because of the indisposition of Burgstaller, he took the part of the hero in "Tristan und Isolde" last night, although he sailed this morning for Europe. He was in excellent voice, and played as if he were beginning instead of ending an engagement. He never deserved more credit.

Gadski was Isolde. Her interpretation of the character, while developed along the lines upon which she first appeared in it, showed a deeper understanding and manifestation of it.

Louise Homer, as Brangäne, was a delight. Her warning to the lovers from the tower was beautifully sung. Van Hooy's Kurwenal, always one of his best parts, was most satisfactory. Blase, as the King, Mulmann as Melot, and Reiss as the shepherd were all familiar and did their work well.

Mahler conducted. The audience was as large as the subscription. The standees were few. It was greatly to be deplored that a number of persons left the house during the last act before the Liebestod, which Gadski sang with beautiful expression.

Renard's Farewell in "Thais" at Manhattan

LAST night's performance of "Thais" at the Manhattan Opera-House marked the final appearance of this season of Maurice Renard. It was "Renard Night" and the great bassist not only merited the lion's share of the applause, but was forced by his fellow singers to accept it. Three times Miss Garden ran off the stage after a recall, obliging him to take the plaudits alone. Daimores and she conspired to thrust him forward when the three appeared before the curtain. A big wreath decked with France's tricolor was presented to the entire week.

SAW SAFE BLOWERS AT WORK IN STORE

But Party Returning From Dance Thought They Were the Grocer and Clerks.

(Special to The Evening World.)
PASSAIC, N. J., Feb. 4.—Burglars blew open a safe in the grocery store of Nathan Riskin at No. 185 Palisade avenue, Garfield, early to-day and stole $500 cash and several hundred dollars in checks.

Riskin and his family slept in a room separated from the store by a wooden partition, but they knew nothing of the robbery until the place was opened for business. The safe stood in view of the sidewalk when cracked, and in order to work the yegman had to move a quantity of groceries.

A party of young people going home from a dance saw the burglars, but gave no alarm, thinking Riskin and his clerks were rearranging his stock.

Mineral Wealth.

(From the Washington Star.)
"I don't read of as many gold bricks and silver as I used to," said the man who watches the news.
"No," answered the man with the diamond breastpin; "what's the use of going to the trouble to fix up a gold brick when you can get bigger returns on a prospectus?"

Weak Little Boys

may become fine strong men.
Some of the strong men of to-day
were sickly boys years ago. Many of them received

Scott's Emulsion

at their mother's knee. This rad a power in it that changed them from weak, delicate boys into strong, robust boys.

It has the same power to-day.
Boys and girls who are pale and weak get food and energy
out of SCOTT'S EMULSION.
It makes children grow. . . .

Let the Wolfner Piano Speak for Itself

No $250 Instrument in the World Can Equal It

THE Wolfner is a marvel among pianos of its class. Its richness of tone, its perfection of scale and its thorough and artistic construction give it precedence over every other $250 instrument on the market. Examine it yourself, or bring a musician to try it, and the result will sustain every claim we make for the Wolfner. You'll find it a piano of unusual excellence—one worthy of all the praise we give it.

$5 Down and $1 a Week with no other charge of any kind are our terms. We charge you nothing for cartage, no interest on deferred payments, no extras—the above terms cover everything.

You assume no risk when you buy a Wolfner—each one has our endorsement, and before a piano can get that it must earn it—and the Wolfner has. And

We Guarantee It to Give Satisfaction
A revolving stool and a protection cover free with each piano we sell.

We Polish, Tune and Repair Pianos

Competent and reliable workmen are employed. Their work is guaranteed—and our prices are moderate. Piano tuning may be arranged for by the year.
